How to Cite a Newsela Article in NoodleTools

1. Log into NoodleTools. You should log in with your Google school account (on the right side of the screen).

2. Select Create New Project and name your project Societal Issues

3. Select MLA and Starter

4. Click on Sources to start doing your citations

   Projects  |  Dashboard  |  Sources  |  Notecards  |  Paper

5. Click on Create new citation

6. For Newsela, you will select Database then Magazine

   (turn over)
7. Fill in the Database information:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Print</th>
<th>Website</th>
<th>Database</th>
<th>Digital File</th>
<th>Microform</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Name of the database: Newsela</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>URL: [https://newsela.com/read/2018-olympics-north-korea/id/39294/]</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Most recent date of access: [today] January 12, 2018</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Article

- Article authors:
  - Author: Adam Taylor

- Article title: Analysis: Why North Korea's decision to attend

- Pages: Not consecutive

Magazine

- Name of magazine: The Washington Post

- Publication date: January 9, 2018

---

To find out if an actual author is named, click on the Max version of the article. If there is more than one author, you can click on Add another contributor and you can add the second one. If there is no author name given, you can select Editor instead of Author and then type in Newsele Staff.
8. Click on the green Save button and then you will have your citation on a works cited page.

9. Click on Print/Export and then select Import to Google Docs (you should be in Chrome for this to work).

10. It will open on Google Docs and then you will be able to print.